Glenn Curtiss, the Noted
Aviator.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

(Special from United Press.)
St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, discoverer of the North Pole, and Glenn H. Curtiss, aviator, rode side by side in a carriage at the head of the big historical educational, military parade, the crowning feature of the centennial celebration here to-day. The schools were closed for the day and many business houses gave a full holiday. The city and state offices were closed. Later Curtiss made a test flight, sailing nearly a mile although he was up only a minute.

Roy Crooks and Bride See Big Pittsburg Game

(Special from United Press.)
Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—In a seat well to the front of the grandstand at Forbes Field where Pittsburg and Detroit meet in the game of the world's series today will sit a bride and groom. Both are dyed in the wool fans. The bridegroom is Roy Raymond Crooks, of Detroit, and the bride is Miss James of Bridgeton, N. J. Miss James was a loyal backer of the Pirates while Crooks followed the Tigers through their battles in the American League. Crooks "popped the question" and his answer was yes providing one of the favorite teams won a pennant. They both won as the couple came to Pittsburg where both favorite appear today and were married.

THREE WARSHIPS PASS DOWN BAY

French Battleships First to Leave For Home After Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

MANY SAILORS MISSING

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Oct. 8.—Three big, powerful warships passed down the bay to Tompkinsville, to-day, and pointed eastward, their dark hulls and masts in sombre contrast with the scores of vessels that saluted them in passing. They were the French battleships Justice, Liberte and Verite, and their sailing marked the disintegration of the flotilla of warships that have been here taking part in the Hudson-Fulton Celebration. The four British ships headed by the Dreadnaught cruiser Inflexible, will leave to-morrow and the four German cruisers will likely weigh anchor either Sunday or Monday, at which time the Italian and Mexican ships will probably leave. Twelve of the nineteen American battleships that stretched along the Hudson during the celebration still remain, but orders are expected daily for the dispatch of these ships along the coast. Officers of the foreign ships are busy hunting up absent sailors as the foreign jackies are exhibiting the usual fondness for the pleasures of shore leave. It is related that a 194 crew member of the Inflexible alone are missing, but the officers did not seem to be worried. Several French sailors were left behind when the French fleet sailed. They will be sent back by the French consul in the steamer of the next ship sailing for Havre.

SPANISH FORCES AGAIN ROUTED

(Special to The Farmer.)
Lisbon, Oct. 8.—Route and disaster, following on another attempt of the Spanish forces to extend their operations in the vicinity of Melilla where they are penned in by the Rif tribesmen, were the result of a message received here to-day from Melilla. It is reported that 7 of the Spanish constabulary, captured during the engagement, were disarmed and the blood of the native companies. The object of the expedition was to reconquer the position of the tribesmen on the coast at distance south of Mount Gurugu. A strong force of Spanish infantry and cavalry with several heavy guns ventured from the fortified camp at Mount Gurugu and had proceeded some distance into the hostile territory before meeting the natives. In a shallow ravine between two low hills the Spaniards were attacked from every side. The ambush had been carefully planned and the Spanish infantry was cut to pieces. The cavalry charged the hills on one side of the position and covered the retreat of the demoralized infantry which fell back to Mount Gurugu with heavy losses. The cavalry charge succeeded in stopping the Rifits long enough to save the infantry but at the price of heavy losses to the cavalry. Seventy of the latter were killed. All of the cannon and field pieces of the expedition fell into the hands of the Moors.

It is reported here that the tribesmen are receiving large numbers of reinforcements from the troops of Mulai Hafid.

TWO MURDERERS SENTENCED TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Oct. 8.—Carl Giero and Frank Schlemmer, who were tried and convicted on the charge of murdering Joseph Starvo Galt, July 8, were to-day sentenced to be electrocuted in Sing Sing prison Nov. 15. The men were attempting to burglarize the woman's home.

MOTHER LOSING MIND SCALDS HER CHILDREN

Woman Taken to Lakeview Home By Charities Inspector.

Mary Colgan, of 39 Austin street, who has been acting strangely, was taken from her home, last night, to Lakeview home, where she will be kept for observation. One of her delusions is that she has enemies in the neighborhood and she scalds her son and daughter, William and May, by turning hot water on them. Mrs. Colgan has been growing worse for about four weeks. Investigator Morrissey of the Charities Department took William Savoy of Richmond, Va., a sufferer of locomotor-ataxia, who has been at Lakeview home for over a year, to New York and helped him aboard a boat several days ago suffering from delusions was taken to Middletown to-day by Investigator Morrissey.

FIVE LIVES LOST IN NASHVILLE FIRE

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 8.—Fire in North Nashville this morning destroyed a grocery store over which a family resided. It is reported five lives were lost.

84 HIGH STEPPERS TRIP TO NEWPORT

Coaching Club Leaves Fairfield This Morning for New London.

GUESTS OF O. G. JENNINGS

The Coaching Club left Fairfield at 9:10 this morning by the "Back Road," for New London, which will be the next stop on the way to Newport. The coaching party reached Fairfield last night, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. Gould Jennings. Lights had been strung along the highway from the Jennings home for more than a mile. The Coaching Club started from New York just after noon yesterday on its run to Newport with Regina W. Rives driving a four of teams and a gray. At Fordham road G. G. Havens, Jr., took his place. The trip took for about nine miles to a stage and a two and a half day drive to Oakland Farm, Newport, as guests of A. G. Vanderbilt. It is just one of the informal outings that have been held almost yearly since 1878. Whenever one of the Coaching Club's forty members is in the mood he asks all hands to drive to his country place, and spend a Sunday. The other members have no other engagements accept, and then it is figured out how many teams will be needed in relays. Each guest driving the team of horses and a gray, but the guests who are not asked to loan horses have as good a time. The start from the Metropolitan Club in New York was scheduled at 12:30 o'clock, and ten minutes before that time the coach approached through Sixth street from Madison street. R. W. Rives drove the team up and the guard was in his place sounding a fanfare on his long tin horn. At the musical blast the on-lookers who had been looking for the Fifth avenue approach performed a right about face. The guard was Harry de Mawby, who works for Mr. Vanderbilt. He wears a gorgeous coat of the London-Brighton coach that his boss has "tooled" for the last two seasons in England. Sometimes the member who is host to the party of his own, but the party yesterday rode on the Coaching Club's own vehicle, the Pioneer. It has been seen on the Arlington and other routes and is a handsome, easy running craft. It is white with carmine tracings, and glitters in new paint. The guests traveled light, their trunks or boxes being sent off by express. Some luncheon baskets and boxes formed the bulk of the top load. Inside were some hat boxes, for as the coach rolled, Mr. Vanderbilt had a blue serge suit, a tan waistcoat and a black derby. Nearly all the others wore topcoats. Mr. Rives had dismounted after pulling up with the coach. A second before 12:30 o'clock the passengers entered into their seats. Mr. Rives fixed his reins and nodded to the men holding the leaders. Off they went, the guard swinging up behind him. The coach got under way and the policeman kept the way clear, and at a slow trot the Pioneer swung into Central Park, the team being pointed for the Mall.

A. G. Vanderbilt had the box seat, he and the coachman sporting big boutonnières of white and red carnations. The other two rows of the coach were a team of two, were G. G. Havens, Jr., E. Victor Loew, W. Goodby, Loew, J. E. Alexander, Jr., O. Gould Jennings, A. de Mawby and F. O. Gould. The tenth was a guest of honor, Edward Browning, president of the Philadelphia Four-in-Hand Club. The others to furnish the team will join at various points. R. C. Vanderbilt, August Gray, William Woodward and G. L. Boissevain. Last night the party were guests at a dinner at Fairfield, Conn., home of O. Gould Jennings. To-night they will be dining and put up by C. Leyard Blair at New London on this steamer yacht. On Saturday evening the Pioneer will pull up at Oakland Farm, Newport. Mr. Vanderbilt driving the last five stages. The drive of 206 miles will require the services of twenty-one teams—eighty-four good steppers. There will not be a return drive. The Pioneer coach, with the Vanderbilt party on board reached East Broadway and Sutton avenue, Stratford at 9:20 this morning, having left the residence of Mr. Oliver C. Gould in Fairfield at about 8:30 o'clock. A relay of four horses was in waiting at the point designated in Stratford, the change was made in five minutes. The machine preceded the coach a few minutes in advance, at the stopping point took saddles, blankets, etc., and followed next to the coach. The Woodmont, where the coach was due at 10:15 A. M., according to the time table. All the gentlemen on the coach wore red and white bouquets, backed with small hats, and in their buttonholes. Quite a crowd of local residents assembled to see the change of horses.

PAVING ENGINEER PICKED BY CITY

J. W. Howard to Test Wood
Block—Mack Brick Here

The Mack paving brick to be used in the paving of Fairfield avenue between Main and Water streets arrived at the local freight yards today so that the city will be able to proceed with the completion of the paving job at once. The city has engaged J. W. Howard as consulting engineer and paving expert to examine and test the paving material to be used by the city in paving Main street from East Washington avenue to Golden Hill street. The U. S. Wood Preserving Co. will commence the work of treating the blocks for this city next Wednesday at its plant in Newark, N. J. The engineer will make the inspection at the plant of the company. Engineer Howard is the choice of City Engineer McKenna, Director Blits and Auditor Keating. The block should begin to arrive here by the latter part of next week.

BODY FLOATING IN SCOTT'S POND

Naugatuck, Oct. 8.—The body of a man supposed to be Henry Williams of Bristol was found floating in Scott's pond near here to-day. The body was moved to an undertaking establishment in Waterbury. Williams was seen in this vicinity yesterday acting queerly. Several times he walked in to the pond and came out again but towards evening he disappeared. The medical examiner stated that he thought the man was insane.

CHAUFFEUR DUNBAR ACQUITTED BY JURY.

Litchfield, Oct. 8.—George Dunbar, a chauffeur who was on trial before the Superior court here on the charge of driving an automobile at excessive speed between Salisbury and Sharon, was acquitted by the jury yesterday.

SENTENCE OF LEBENTHALS DELAYED

Belief Seems to be That Leberthal Will Confess to Save His Wife and That Jewels Will be Restored.

The court room of the Superior court was again thronged this morning with those who had come to hear sentence passed on Abraham and Ida Leberthal for the theft of the jewels of Mrs. Charles M. Cole for which a jury has found them guilty. Great was the disappointment of those present when the sheriffs informed them that the Leberthals would not be brought down from the jail to-day and that the date of their sentence was indefinite. Immediately there was general desertion of the court room, for all interest was centered in the Leberthal case.

The second postponement of the sentence gives rise to many queries, but it is the general belief that probably the diamonds will be restored to their owner, following a confession by Leberthal as to how he saved his wife. This idea was further advanced when the counsel for the defense this afternoon gave notice of their intention to appeal from the verdict of the jury and the judgment to be rendered by the court in the case of Mrs. Leberthal. There were, feeling rumors swirling about the court house this morning that Leberthal had made a partial confession to Sheriff Hawley at the County Jail. This could not be affirmed as the Sheriff with this value of the diamonds could be found, but that his wife had nothing to do with their loss.

It is further stated that an attempt to work the 3rd degree was tried on Leberthal in an effort to reach him, but that the jewels were hidden, but nothing could be gained through this end. The confession being given of his own free will. It became known this morning that Leberthal and Gordon were placed in the same cell in the jail and there had a mutual talk about their relative positions. It is not known whether anyone was listening to their talk, but from what has leaked out it is rumored that Leberthal accused Gordon of taking and selling a diamond slip pin, the one that is missing from the lot exhibited in court. This stone Leberthal is accused of having also taken, being added to the value of the goods the jury has agreed upon that Leberthal has appropriated.

POLITICAL OUTLOOK IN REPUBLICAN CAMP

But if it were impossible to nominate Lee, and no one else like Burnham, can be induced to stand, and the necessary one or two delegates could be induced to take Wilson, for it will be clear as this, then and not until then would he be taken and groomed for the race.

"Yet Alderman Wilson would be eminently satisfied to see the machine bitten the hand that feeds him. He probably never will. He took his medicine and he took his vote for the machine. The machine will feel that it can trust him."

PLAINTIFF SOLD WIFE TO ANOTHER MAN

mate at the State's prison in Wethersfield. The case was brought on the ground of habitual intemperance, but as the defendant has been in State's prison since a year ago last March, the court could not under the law consider the case on such grounds. The court explained that the defendant could not possibly be intemperate, and be an inmate of a prison for almost two years. In stating this, Judge Williams stated that the plaintiff could wait till the allotted time prescribed by law, and a divorce could be obtained on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Kelley explained to the court that a year ago last March her husband was sentenced to State's prison for from four to five years for forgery in Ansonia. The couple were married in Huntington, Sept. 15, 1903. Mrs. Kelley in stating her case stated that her husband had served three years in Wethersfield for burglary prior to their marriage. She never knew of this imprisonment until it was brought to her attention for forgery in the New Haven court.

PROBATE COURT NOTES

MISS CAMPBELL BEATS MRS. FOX IN SEMI-FINAL

(Special from United Press.)
Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Miss Dorothy Campbell of Scotland, defeated Mrs. C. Fox of the American player, in the semi-final round of the woman's National Golf Championship at Haverford this afternoon. Miss Campbell won 3 up and 2 to play. Miss Campbell will play Mrs. R. H. Barlow in the finals to-morrow. The latter defeated Miss M. Phelps of Brookline 8 up.

BOY FALLS IN SCALDING WATER

(Special from United Press.)
Norwalk, Oct. 8.—James Haelet, the 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Haelet, was badly scalded this morning at his home on the Wilson Point Road, near here when he fell backwards into a tub of scalding hot water. Mrs. Haelet rescued her son from the tub. For a time it was thought the child would not live but he is improving now.

HOWLAND'S

Entrances on Main street, Fairfield avenue and Cannon street.
Bridgeport, Conn.,
Friday, October 8, 1909.
The Weather—Fair tonight; partly cloudy tomorrow.

Delightful Indian summer makes peculiar demands up- on the wardrobe.

Warm days call for thin dresses. But cool evenings make it needful to wear a coat.

For mid-day, a summer dress is not a bit out of tune. For evening, one needs one of the new Autumn suits.

There is splendid array waiting at the store. You may come in; pay any price you wish from $15; get a suit that is ready for immediate service.

They are beauties, too. Colors are rich. Models are graceful. Decoration, where used, is effective and tasteful.

There are many handsome new waists for wear with the new costumes, too. Lace waists are back in high favor—and scarce as can be in most places. One maker chanced to be ready to take care of the demand. He was one of our regular makers. And we have plenty of lace waists for the present. $5 and more.

A glove trio of much goodness.

First, and far ahead of any other at the price, the Princess Victoria. Real kid. Made for the store in France. Made by gloves whose usual product is sold for much more. Made same excellent way as that other product. Of plump skins. Good style. In all liked colors. $1.

Chamois gloves finished in attractively-stylish fashion. White or natural hue of chamois. Will wash, of course, and come from a bath looking like new. $1 and $1.50.

Cape gloves made just like men's. Good plump skins, finished with prix seam. Tan or black. $1.

Beaver hats are so scarce!

That is the cry from all along the millinery line. But here they are. Beauties. And in all the stylish dress and sailor and up-turned-brim shapes.

And in the season's best colors as well as black. $4.50 and up.

This is only one more instance of the store's readiness.

Fresh supply of inexpensive hats.

Four five or six dollars will buy a very pretty and tasteful hat in this Howland millinery shop.

That hat is in thorough accord with the latest note that Fashion has struck. It is of good material and tasteful. It is an excellent combination of colors.

Of such hats there is large as well as fresh supply. There are all the new shapes; all the new colors;—a complete gathering.

Extra value is to be seen in each one; they are special money's-worths at $4 $5 and $6

Second floor.

EARTHQUAKE FELT AT DALTON, GA.

Dalton, Ga., Oct. 8.—A distinct earthquake was felt here this morning. There was a slight jar but the damage was slight.

NURSES LISTEN TO ADDRESS BY BULLARD

A meeting of the graduate nurses of the city was held in the Stratfield this afternoon at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of giving an opportunity to the nurses to meet Dudley B. Bullard, president of the local branch of the Fairfield County Anti-Tuberculosis Association. Mr. Bullard told the nurses a great deal of interest was aroused. There was no significance to the gathering other than a pleasant occasion for Mr. Bullard and the nurses to become acquainted.

Small Pox Suspect Declared Not Greek

Many of the most prominent Greeks said this afternoon that Anoun is not a Greek and that there was never a Greek by that name. One Main street merchant said: "I know Roumanians, Bulgarians, Syrians and Arabs who come here claim they are Greeks because they either speak Greek or belong to the Greek Catholic church. There are only about 40 Greeks in Bridgeport while there are at least 100 Arabs here who claim they are Greeks, to say nothing about the other nationalities. These Arabs find they get a job in a shop easier by saying they are Greeks."

"They don't stay in one place long and this gives employers the opinion that Greeks are rovers. If a circus comes along with a band of Arabs attached to it people go to see these strange people from the far East when they are rubbing shoulders with Arabs on the streets, in the shops, and on the street cars everyday. The claim to Greek nationality comes through the great mixing up of races in Macedonia. I don't know what nationality this Anoun is but it sounds more like an Arabian name than any other nationality. It is certainly not a Greek name."

Stolen Fowl HAVE BEEN FOUND

Nine of the 100 or more fowls stolen from the farm of J. M. Jackson Sunday night have been recovered by Mr. Jackson who found them on a place in Plattville near Castle Hill. Detectives Arnold and Fox are investigating this afternoon and an arrest is expected. More details have not yet been learned.

Tears of Mother Win Judge's Heart

Moved by the tears of a mother and her four small children Judge Foster to-day suspended sentence of $6 and costs imposed upon George Denbuck for breach of the peace and drunkenness and Denbuck was released from jail this afternoon, where he was serving his sentence, not having the money to pay his fine.

The body of Mrs. Sophia Spencer, widow of Isaac Spencer who formerly lived in this city, late of Nova Scotia who died in Melrose, Mass., yesterday will be brought to this city for burial tomorrow afternoon and will arrive here at 2:25. The burial will be held in Park cemetery. The deceased was the mother of Miss Jane Spencer who was visiting in this city when called to her mother's bedside last Thursday.
